Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 18 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A bright morning, cloudy with rain later.

Today:
Bright start for most with some sunny spells after a chilly start, with local fog patches clearing. Thickening cloud and outbreaks of rain spreading eastwards by early afternoon. Mild. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Tonight:
Remaining cloudy this evening as rain continues to clear the east. Becoming dry for a time for most before rain approaches from the southwest by the end of the night. Minimum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Tuesday:
Patchy rain will move east across the region in the morning. Likely becoming drier for a time in the afternoon before further heavy rain arrives later. Very mild. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Unsettled and windy on Wednesday and Thursday, with spells of rain, these heavy at times. Temperatures starting well above average, becoming cool from Thursday. Brighter with patchy light showers Friday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.